I'm a design + business student with a passion for people, creative branding, web design, and coffee. I'm a motivated and hardworking individual, with a drive for helping others; a sleepless student, creative thinker, and overall curious as to how things work. I have a strong ambition for learning, and I'm looking for an internship to learn some more!

Things I do

- Three years experience designing meaningful user experiences
- Solving problems through creative collaboration, and a keen eye to details
- Three years experience using HTML, CSS, JavaScript for effective web design
- Leadership skills developed globally and locally through volunteering with HOBY
- Strong passion for intention , and a drive to continually learn through experience
